VIOLENCE AGAINST CHILDREN ; HAVE WE HAD ENOUGH YET? EXPLORING CAUSES, IMPACT AND PREVENTION OF ALL FORMS OF VIOLENCE

29th September 2010
The Grand Central Hotel
Glasgow
G1 3SF

This timely and influential conference will explore the causes of violence, consider what we know about the impacts of violence on children and young people, examine good practice around prevention of violence and discuss what more can and should be done.

The voices of children and young people will be represented through calls to ChildLine in Scotland as well as through feedback from our services and we will also hear from parents who use our ParentLine Scotland helpline.

In addition, the conference will hear from experts across Scotland and the UK covering topics such as tackling the root causes of violence, the impact on childhood development, bullying, domestic violence and knife crime and gang culture and the implications for practice development and service delivery.

This conference will be of interest to a wide range of practitioners, managers and other professionals across all organisations who work in the fields of violence reduction, early years and family support, including those from health, social care, education, police, youth justice, community safety, voluntary sector, academics, policy makers and anyone with an interest in this area.
